01 1.2 Logo components

The logotype is built using a module. It determines the mutual relations between the individual elements of the logo. This module is the width of the symbol.

s. 6 European Students' Union Design Elements ESU Brand Guidelines

01 1.3 Clear space

Clear space is a designed empty space around the logo. Its task is to protect the logo against the visual interference of other graphic or text elements. This principle is set in order for the emblem to be correctly recognised.

s. 7 European Students' Union Design Elements ESU Brand Guidelines

01 1.4 Minimum size

If the logo is reduced too much, it loses its legibility. It is not allowed to use versions smaller than 8mm.

s. 8 European Students' Union Design Elements ESU Brand Guidelines

01 1.5 Reverse version

The logo can be used on the full-colour background. In that case, the white version of the logo should be used. The logo should be placed against the background of the company colors described further in the document.

01 1.7 Incorrect logo usage

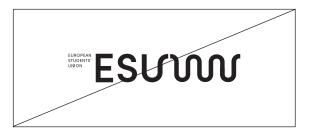

These graphics are examples of incorrect use of the logo. They violate the rules of the logo, which are regulated by the brandbook. Visual identity guidelines must be strictly followed.

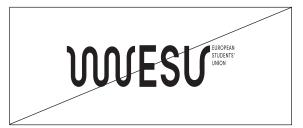

It is not allowed to:

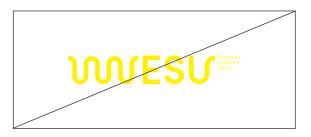

- splitting the logo into separate elements or changing the arrangement of elements,
- change in the proportions of the logo, i.e. stretching, tilting, compressing, deforming, changing the typeface or size of text,
- placing additional objects or content that are not included in this document,
- change the colour palette,
- violate the clear space.
